Abstract Guidelines

1. The official font type for WURC 2024 is defined as "CMU Serif". Check if your computer has this particular font. If not, please go through the folder attached herewith for the font. You need to download the folder and double-click on each file (there are 4-files). Once you open up the window of each file, click on the "Install" button. Once you have performed this for all 4-files, you are advised to restart your computer, open the Camera Ready Abstract Template word file and proceed with abstract preparation.

2. The preamble (i.e., title, authors' list, affiliations and the corresponding email) is restricted for consistency purposes. Use the cursor or arrow keys to navigate into the text boxes in the preamble. In the abstract body, you are given clear instructions for each segment (i.e., content writing, figure/table captioning and table contents) and you have full control to highlight your research outcomes (i.e., delete, copy, paste, etc,.). Treat both Keywords and Acknowledgement similar to abstract contents. This means you can use the same Styles (see Point 4) as in the abstract body. However, you should not select and delete the red sentences in the given template. The Editorial Committee will take care of this.

3. When entering keywords, they must be listed in alphabetical order. If a keyword consists of more than one word, the first letter of each word should be capitalised.

4. The language used in your abstract has to be "UK-English".

5. We have created several formatting styles for the abstract template, which can be found under "Styles" in the "Home" tab.

These styles include,

1. Abstract-title
2. Abstract-title-italic
3. Abstract-title-superscript
4. Abstract-title-subscript
5. Abstract-authors
6. Abstract-authors-superscript
7. Abstract-author-underline (*)
8. Abstract-affiliations
9. Abstract-affiliations-superscript
10. Abstract-corresp
11. Abstract-content
12. Abstract-content-italic
13. Abstract-content-superscript
14. Abstract-content-subscript
15. Abstract-figure/table-caption
16. Abstract-figure/table-caption-bold
17. Abstract-table-contents-centre
18. Abstract-table-contents-left

* The presenting author's name should be underlined, and the affiliation should be excluded when doing so. For example, consider this: E.F.G.H. Joe[b]

Use these styles as per your requirement to modify the text. If it is unclear, please inform your faculty representative of the Editorial Committee. He/She will guide you.

However, you might still require additional formatting. In such cases, please note those relevant places where you require special formatting in the abstract upload link (which will be made available soon, refer to the website for updates).

e.g., title – italicise the word "computational"; content – use subscript for H2O. The Editorial Committee will take care of the formatting and get back to you with the finalised abstract's PDF file for your approval. All measures are taken for consistency purposes thus we appreciate your patience.

6. Instructions on how to place figures and tables are clearly indicated in the template. You are permitted to have a maximum of 1 figure and 1 table at most. You may also use subplots (i.e., multiple figures within the same figure) as figures. In such cases, please use a), b), c), etc. in your figure captions. Figures should be of high quality and be clear for the readers.

7. The camera-ready abstract needs to be of 2 pages.

8. The page numbers, headers and footers of the abstracts will be handled by the Editorial Committee.

9. The upload link will have 2-upload spaces designated for MS Word and PDF files. Please upload both of them in the completed form as an incomplete abstract will be rejected by the Editorial Committee upon submission.

10. The Editorial Committee urges all authors to follow the guidelines and the given instructions in the abstract template, such that the final print of your abstracts will be as seamless as possible.
